[] proposes to go out to [] and [] about the first of February in order to see that the measurements to be conducted by ESL are being made properly. The current plan is that ESL people will be deployed and in the field by about 15 January and be there for about six weeks. I think that [] arrival two weeks after they start operation is at the right time and I have told him that I concur that it would be appropriate for him to go.

[] had evidently talked to [] about this; [] concurs. [] does not feel that [] should go; partly, because he is a contractor; and, partly because of his personality. I agree with [] assessment of the situation.
